

DEPUTIES CALLED TO CONTROL MILK STRIKE DISORDERS

Leaders Deny Rumors That Strike Is Off in Mc-
Henry County

The milk strike situation in McHenry and Kane counties today remains unchanged, despite a temporary ceasing of the strike over the week-end. Although nearly a full delivery of milk was made Sunday, thereby allaying the suspicions of watchers and sheriff's deputies, the insurgent independent dairymen again renewed the strike with vigor on Monday, when 250,000 pounds of milk were dumped, according to E. L. Bost, head of the strikers. This was the total amount dumped in McHenry and Kane counties and in southern Wisconsin.

The strike was begun a week ago Tuesday and is said to be directed at the Pure Milk Association. The strikers are demanding a flat price of $2.50 a hundred pounds for their milk, with abolishment of the base and surplus system. They have not received the expected cooperation from Lake, Cook, Will, DeKalb, and Boone Counties and from southern Wisconsin. Any trouble which might have arisen in Lake county was averted by stationing sheriff's deputies at the various factories. There are many in McHenry county also who were not in favor of the strike as evidenced by the action of the Woodstock Pure Milk local Saturday night when it was almost unanimously decided to deliver milk.

Lured by False Promises
McHenry county dairymen were led by strike leaders to believe that if they supported the strike, they would be aided by 1,000 men from Wisconsin in preventing delivery of milk. Contrary to any such invasion, nearly 100 men from southern Wisconsin arrived Saturday morning to aid dairymen to deliver their milk. Under the eye of Sheriff Edinger and his deputies, milk delivery was made at the Harvard plant Saturday afternoon. Previous to that the insurgents had staged a demonstration at the public square in Woodstock by dumping forty cans of milk.

Arrest Six
Six McHenry county arrests were made last week on various charges. Herman Page of near Harvard is charged with scattering scouring powder over a truck load of milk; Ralph Williams, Ringwood, with striking a deputy sheriff; E. J. Olbrich, Harvard, with disorderly conduct. (Continued on Page 5)

Public Service Co. Is Not Involved in 'Commissioners' Quiz

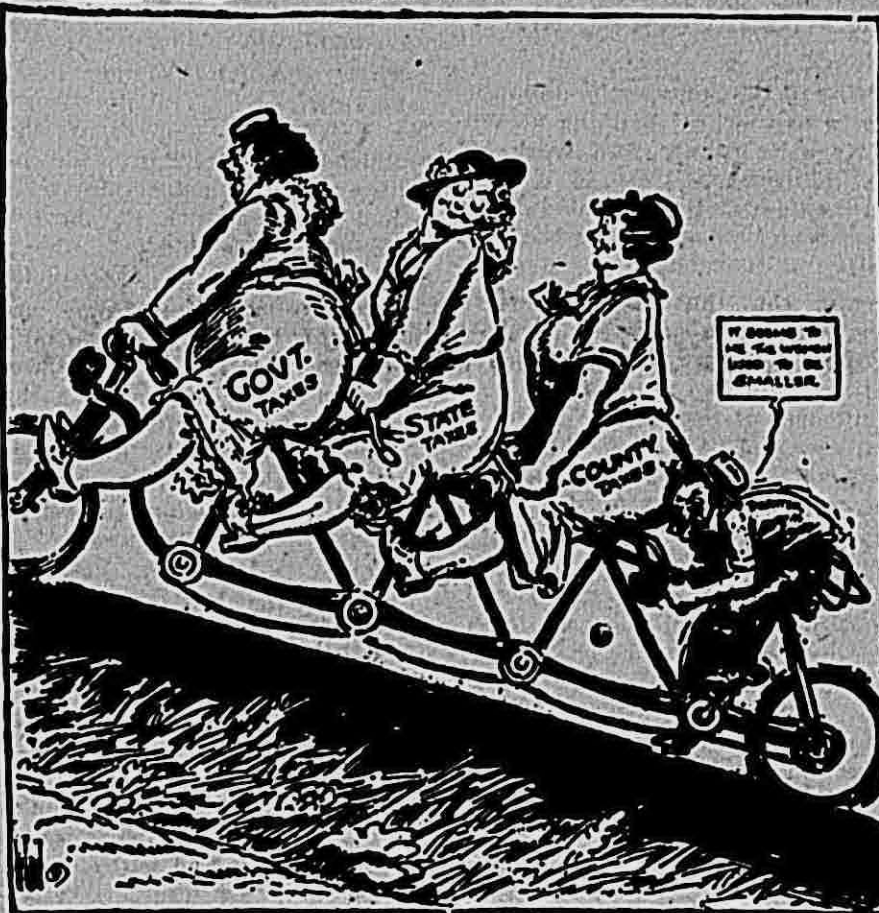

The public Service Company of Northern Illinois is not under investigation by state commerce commissioners as to rates, the company's officials stated this week following the printing of an editorial in the News last week commenting upon the investigation now being made in the affairs of the People's Light, Coke & Gas Co., which serves metropolitan Chicago. The charge had been made against the latter company that fuel had been wasted through failure of the company to properly adjust stoves when the new gas was turned into the lines.

Rates Reduced Here
Recently the Public Service Co. reduced gas for domestic use approximately 2 per cent, and electric rates 3 per cent through the fact that the company is absorbing the 3 per cent federal tax on electricity. There has also been a reduction of about 50 per cent on gas for house heating under the 1931 price, officials stated.

Adjustment of gas burners was made necessary here when the new gas, which is a mixture of artificial and natural gas, was turned into the mains, but at that time all of the old artificial gas was forced out of the pipes and burned, according to William Anderson, local manager for the Public Service Company. The natural gas formerly used in Antioch contained 530 British-thermal units in a cubic foot; natural gas has 1,200 and the mixed gas now used here contains 900 B. T. U., Anderson stated. The change in the B. T. U., or heating units, made necessary the adjustment of burners.

A thermal or heat unit is of Mr. J. of heat required to raise water one degree Fahrenheit. Monday for gas is now made on as fresh as the therm method, did last as 100,000 British thermal

STATE MAY TAKE OVER CONTROL OF CHAIN O' LAKES

Horner Approves Projects to Improve Lake District

Two projects for the improvement of the Chain O'Lakes region yesterday were approved by Gov. Henry Horner, who also has offered to support the measure.

The projects were submitted by State Rep. Richard J. Lyons and his Waterways commission, who consider it advisable to push the measure now in the hope of securing federal aid as well as state aid.

State control over all the lakes and waterways from the Wisconsin line to Ottawa, Ill., one of the chief inland waterway ports from Chicago to New Orleans, is proposed. Water levels would be kept up by a reservoir in some lake, such as Wonder Lake in McHenry Co. with lake and river levels controlled so that the Fox River would be navigable throughout the year.

Two Projects Listed
A survey of the lakes and river chain from the Wisconsin line to Ottawa, Ill., is the main project proposed. The second project, if completed, would provide for building a long bridge over the south end of Grass Lake, in order to connect west side residents directly with Lake County.

LOWER WATER LEVEL IN ANTIOCH LAKE

Wedge Files Suit Against Land Owners; Claims
Land Is Flooded

The water level in Antioch lake is being lowered about four feet to meet the demands of Geo. S. Wedge, who has filed suit against Bernard Naber and Frank Harden for obstructing a natural water course. The case is to come before the October term of the Lake county circuit court. The dam, constructed about two years ago and which holds the body of water, which Wedge claims is flooding part of his land and rendering it useless for agricultural purposes, is on land owned by Naber and Harden, hence the suit is directed at the owners to remove the obstruction, permitting the water to recede from Wedge's land.

The dam has been opened and the water level is being slowly lowered. It is believed that Wedge will not press the suit if the water is taken from his land. He states that he never gave his consent to have any of his land become part of the artificial lake.

The artificial lake is the project of Robert C. Abt, Antioch realtor, which began with the building of the dam in January, 1932. It affects the properties of Frank Harden, B. F. Naber, Charles Wilton, Mrs. Max Holden, George Wedge, and Rosling farm, formerly the property of Nels Nelson.

The dam was planned to impound about 300 acres, or almost one-half of the 412-acre tract situated between Antioch and the Meigs road, and state highways 21 and 59.

CHICAGO WHITE SOX TO PLAY EXHIBITION GAME IN WAUKEGAN

Keller's Stars Matched with Pale Hose Thursday,
Sept. 28—

MASTNE IS IN LINEUP

For the first time in many years a major league ball team will play in Waukegan next Thursday, Sept. 28, when Nick Keller brings the Chicago White Sox to the county seat for an exhibition contest with his famous All-Stars. The game will be played at Weiss field, starting at 3:30 o'clock.

Al Simmons, Jimmy Dykes, "Mule" Haas, and other famous pale hose players will be in the American League lineup, according to Harry Grabner, Secretary of the Sox club.

Mastne in Lineup
Howard Mastne, Antioch's star player and mound artist, will be in the lineup during the game, according to Keller's announcement of players picked from Lake county's best to oppose the White Sox.

Keller's starting battery will be George Mills, who pitched in both the Dixie and Texas leagues this season, and Tony Yuncer, formerly of Rock Island in the Valley league, who will work behind the plate.

Keller is backing the game himself and yesterday signed a contract guaranteeing the White Sox $1,000 for the exhibition in Waukegan. It will be the first appearance of a major league team in Waukegan since the St. Louis Cardinals appeared at Great Lakes several years ago to play the championship Biffex club when that aggregation was holding away as the city's fastest baseball club.

Elmer Gullidge, of Spokane, Wash., was an Antioch visitor Tuesday. He and Mrs. Gullidge, former Antioch residents, are now visiting relatives in Salem, the Wm. Griffin family.

Mrs. Fred Peterson and her sister, Mrs. Martha Brown of Chicago who has spent the summer with her, were guests today of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh, at the Chris Olsen home at Pettie Lake.

LOCAL PURE MILK ASS'N TO STAND WITH GOVERNMENT

Refuse to Pay Bills for the Meetings Called by Insurgents

WISE TO AWAIT FEDERAL ACTION, OFFICIALS SAY

Refusal of the Pure Milk local to pay bills presented by an insurgent minority for halls rented for meetings was the high spot of the official meeting called at Pikeville last night.

One of the bills presented was for the rent of Cedar Crest Stables for a meeting called by the minority leaders August 30; the other was for rent of a hall in Antioch for a meeting called last week, after striking activities had commenced in McHenry county.

Upon receiving the bills a few days ago the Pure Milk officials refused to pay them, declaring that the meetings had not been officially called. When the insurgent members complained that they were being given no opportunity to meet and discuss the milk situation, Leslie Perry, president of the Pure Milk local agreed to call a meeting for last evening at Pikeville.

Vote Bills Down
During the course of business, the matter of the bills for the unauthorized meetings was brought up. A motion was made that they should not be paid, and was carried by a large majority.

Henry Pfister, Prairie View, president of the Pure Milk Association, was present at the meeting. He announced the policy of the Pure Milk in cooperating with the government in view of the fact that government investigation is now being carried on relative to a measure, which, if approved, will raise the price of milk from $1.75 per hundred to $2.05 per hundred pounds.

Legion And Auxiliary Installation To Be Held at Moose Hall

Dancing and Entertainment

A joint installation of ingoing officers of the American Legion and Auxiliary will be held tomorrow evening, Sept. 22, at 8 o'clock, p. m., Daylight Saving Time. Contrary to information received and published last week, the installation will take place in the Moose Hall, Post Office block, instead of at the High School.

The ceremony will not, as previously expected, be made open to the public, according to information given out by the committee, who have decided to keep the affair limited to members. This year, Henry Foval, Lake Bluff, the County Commander recently elected at the Rockford Convention, is to install the Legion officers, while Mrs. Ethel Hook, Grayslake, the District Director, will install the Auxiliary officers.

Feature Mystery Four
Following the installation dancing will be enjoyed, with music furnished by the Mystery Four orchestra. Refreshments will be served.

Walter Hillis, junior vice commander of the local Legion post during the past year, will succeed Dr. L. John Zimmerman as commander. Mrs. William Anderson succeeds Mrs. Evan Kaye as president of the Auxiliary. Members of the committee in charge of installation arrangements are Agnes Hill, Carolyn Horan, the Rev. Rex Slama, and John Horan.

STRATTON PICNIC DRAWS A STATE- WIDE ATTENDANCE

Crowd of 10,000 Turns Out
For Republican Club
Outing

More than 10,000 persons from several counties in the state, were present at the first annual picnic held in honor of William J. Stratton, Lake county candidate for state treasurer, at Renahan's Lodge at Round Lake Sunday. The picnic was given by the Stratton Republican Club of Illinois.

The one speaker of the day, Sylvester J. Konenkamp, former president of the International Commercial Telegraphers Union of America, was introduced by Richard J. Lyons. In his brief speech, Konenkamp spoke of Stratton as one who is back of the farmers and working classes.

One of the principal events of the day was the golf tournament held at the Shorewood Golf Club. With more than one hundred entered, the competition was keen, and the lowest net score, 76, was shared by two persons, W. Fuetz of Round Lake and Bernard J. Juron, chairman of the picnic golf committee. However, Juron withdrew in favor of Fuetz, who was awarded the William J. Stratton trophy. Several other trophies were awarded.

Games and Dancing Enjoyed
The softball game held on the picnic grounds between the Fox Lake Ramblers and Wallenwein's Yellow Jackets was witnessed by a large crowd. Wallenwein's boys took the victory 6-0.

Other contests of general interest were the field races for children, men and women, with the egg races attracting the greatest attention. The Young People's Republican Club sponsored dancing both in the afternoon and evening. All events were broadcast over the grounds through the American Legion public address system, directed by George Ehl.

Many Notables There
Many old friends and new followers from all over Lake County, as well as delegates from Cook, DuPage, McHenry, Boone, and Sangamon were in attendance at the outing, among them Judges Ralph J. Dady, Perry L. Persons and Martin C. Decker, State's Attorney Charles E. Mason, Circuit Court Clerk L. J. Wilmot, County Clerk Lew A. Hendee, Probate Clerk John Bullock, County Superintendent of Schools W. C. Petty, Representative Richard J. Lyons, State Senator Ray Padlock, Postmaster Mancel Talcott, Col. A. V. Smith, Lawrence Doolittle, Ed. A. Brown, Sheriff Lester Tiffany and Leslie P. Volz of Chicago, secretary of the Illinois Republican council.

These resolutions will be voted upon at the State Convention to be held at Rockford on October 17, 18, and 19.

The drill school which was to have been held Sept. 21-23 at Marlin has been postponed until Sept. 25-27, according to Sec. Horan. The opening county meeting, as stated before, will be held at Barrington, Monday, September 25, while the regular meeting will be held here the following evening.

WADE OFFERS SOUND ADVICE

Every driver of an automobile should be forced to buy liability insurance along with his license to own and operate a car, according to Claudius E. Wade, director of the Chicago College of Commerce.

"We are living in a rapid and ever-changing era," Wade writes to News. "About the time we get some contrivance perfected we immediately take up the task of improving it. So rapid is the transition from one thing to another that the public does not have time to acquaint itself with the mechanism and conduct itself in a safe and becoming manner."

"Automobiles are responsible annually for approximately 33,000 deaths, 800,000 injuries and about one billion dollars in property damage. It would seem that the law-making and governing bodies of this country would make an earnest effort to locate and remedy the causes."

"When an individual enters upon a highway, it would seem that as long as he is within his rights he should be protected as to life and property. When you see some one in an old dilapidated car worth only a few dollars, inferior in mechanism and unstopable as to brakes, bearing down on you, it is not a pleasant feeling. The poorness of their car and the fact that yours is good seems to intensify their recklessness."

"Many people who are not able to pay hospital bills and have their car repaired are victims of drivers who are not worth anything financially; also, many new cars are badly damaged by financially irresponsible drivers and what can be done about it? Nothing."

"Would it not be a good law if every state would, when issuing license plates, charge enough for them so as to pay for a liability insurance of at least $1,000? It would keep thousands of worthless cars off the road, preserve hundreds of lives, and serve in a way to replace the material damage done."

To many observers, one of the sour spots in the government at the moment is the Public Works Administration. It has been extensively criticized for lethargy; the money, figuratively speaking, has been doled out in nickels and dimes instead of dollars, and a comparatively long period of time has been taken to okeh the most minor project.

The excuse for this is that the most unremitting care has been taken to prevent waste, graft and inefficiency so far as the spending of the money is concerned; in the past practically every government works program has been the target for suspicion, often well founded, and Secretary Ickes wants to make this one a model of honesty.

So far, $1,400,000,000 has been allocated. Much of this was planned long ago, and certain appropriations were specified in other pieces of legislation. Flood control will get $120,000,000; highways, $400,000,000; naval construction, $238,000,000; reclamation projects, $70,000,000.

GOING, GOING, GONE!

The recent speech of National Recovery Administrator Johnson concerning the "buy now" campaign he plans to start late in September, should be of especial interest to the wise and thrifty property-owner.

The forthcoming campaign is not to be classed with sporadic campaigns of a similar nature attempted during the past few years. This one will have the highest backing—it will come at a time when recovery is really underway, and the public will go the limit in cooperating with the heads of the government. There is every reason to believe it will succeed. And the inevitable result will be still sharper acceleration of the price level.

There is, as General Johnson said, a tremendous latent demand for all the necessities of life—for auto repairs, for clothes, for new heating plants, for house and land improvement. Organized and directed, this demand can create the greatest buying wave since war-time. It will lower the value of the inactive dollar, by making it buy less. It will raise the value of the dollar that is spent wisely now, by increasing the value of the improvements.

This is fact, not theory. The day of bargains for standard commodities is going. It will be gone before we know it. The American property-owner is being offered his last chance to build a new home, repair an old one and do similar things at extremely low prices.

If your merchandise has merit, advertising will sell it. If not, it's wise to keep still and wait for suckers.

WILMOT SCHOOL BOARD IS MADE DEFENDENT IN SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Contractors Charge Board With Failure to Let Contract to Lowest Bidder

Letting of the contract for the erection of a new school building at Wilmot, Kenosha county, last week led to the filing of a $3,084.55 damage action against Joint School District Number 9 and officers of the board of education of the district.

Alleging that the officers failed to let the contract to the lowest responsible public bidder, in accordance with their indicated promise, the contracting firm of Steiner & Wolfe, of Milwaukee and Appleton, filed the damage suit in circuit court for Kenosha county, Saturday.

Arthur Steiner and Frank L. Wolfe, co-partners in the firm, charge that, although they submitted the lowest bid and met all conditions set forth, the contract was let to another party, H. B. Kilstofte, "a person not the lowest responsible public bidder and one who had submitted a bid on a type of construction contrary to and not in conformity with the type of construction or plans and specifications" drawn up by architects.

Harry C. McDougall, George Dowell, Rollie Hegeman, as clerk, director and treasurer, respectively, and members of the district school board, and school district number 9, are named defendants in the action.

Two Causes Given

The plaintiffs set forth two causes of action. Under the first, alleging failure to fulfill the promise to let the contract to the lowest bidder, they demand damages of $2,650.60. Under the second they demand $408.95 for expenses allegedly incurred in preparation and submission of their bid.

The Wilmot school building, which houses the Union Free High School of Wilmot and the grade school of district number 9, was destroyed by fire on New Year's Day, 1933. Cause of the fire was never determined.

Following a vote on the proposal, a call for bids for the construction of a new building was advertised on April 26, 1933. Plans and specifications for the proposed building were given and the Steiner & Wolfe firm was among the bidders.

Their complaint claims that the school district by publicly advertising for bids "then and there offered, promised and agreed to enter into a contract for construction of said school building with the lowest responsible public bidder" who complied with the terms and conditions set out by the architects.

They further allege that they submitted the lowest bid, acting in good faith and in accordance with the offer by the defendants, but that the defendants "in breach of their promise and agreement" entered into a contract with another person—Burlington Standard Democrat.

Urges Formation of Credit Union For Federal Employees

President of State Federation Is Principal Speaker at Picnic

Formation of a local credit union for the purpose of securing loans at low rates of interest for members was urged by President Gibson of the Illinois Federation of Federal Employees in an address before members of the group at the annual picnic held Sunday at Foss Park, North Chicago.

Those attending included federal employees of local union No. 167, stationed at the Veterans' Administration hospital, North Chicago, Great Lakes Naval Training Station, and Fort Sheridan. Refreshments were served to members and their families and athletic contests were under the direction of Chairman A. A. Alderdice. There was music by the hospital orchestra. H. B. Thomas, labor foreman at the hospital, was chairman of the picnic committee, and E. K. Ricker, property custodian and vice president of the organization, was chairman of the refreshment committee.

Warm Milk Helpful in Relaxing the Active Child

By FRANCES BERKELEY FLOORE,
Director of Dietetics, St. Luke's Hospital

WITH the radio, the movie and the Century of Progress vying for the school child's interest, the problem of seeing that he gets the proper amount of rest is perhaps more difficult than it was some years ago. But the modern child probably needs his rest even more than that child of yesterday, for with the increased excitement and activity of present day life, it is most important that he should have sleep to build up his strength. With the additional strain of school life, now being taken up again, sleep is even more important than in the summer.

Explaining why sleep is necessary, a leading nutritional authority, Dr. Lydia J. Roberts, says: "A continual shortage of sleep, whether cut from the evening or morning end of the day's quota, may adversely affect the nutrition of the child in at least two ways. During sleep the body processes slow down and the need for energy is the least the body can ever require; awake and active, the needs are greatly increased. Thus every hour of awake activity stolen from the sleep quota, increases the fuel needed by the body. Unless more food is eaten to compensate, the body tissues are burned and loss of weight follows. But in addition loss of sleep results in a hyper-irritable nervous system, and nervous tension still further increases the food needs, while at the same time it usually diminishes the desire for food. Thus a lack of sleep tends to produce a nervous, irritable, undernourished child."

At six to seven years of age the child needs about 12 hours' sleep every night; the eight to ten-year-old needs eleven hours; the child of eleven or twelve should have ten or eleven hours; the adolescent of thirteen to fifteen years still needs from ten to twelve hours; and the sixteen to eighteen year olds should have nine or ten hours.

It is this last age group that is most apt to slight the hours of sleep—the athletes who have training rules to keep are probably the only ones who keep to such a schedule with any regularity. Perhaps if young girls realized the truth in the old saying about "beauty sleep" they would be more willing to go to bed earlier for it is true that lack of sleep quickly makes inroads on attractive personal appearance.

The problem of sleep for the younger child is more easily controlled by the parents. A regular bedtime hour should be established; then make bedtime a pleasant period, rather than a punishment, making the half hour before retiring something to anticipate by having story telling or quiet games. It is a good idea to go into the room with the child to see that he is tucked in and comfortably settled; and of course see that the room is at comfortable temperature—about fifty degrees Fahrenheit if possible with plenty of fresh air—and as free from noise as possible. A glass of warm milk at bedtime is helpful in relaxing the child.

Not only sleep but a certain amount of rest and relaxation is essential. After school the child should not have to start on other lessons such as music, dancing or dramatic work. Nor should he have much home work to do. There should be at least two hours in his day which he can spend as he chooses.

Selfishly considered, parents should be vitally interested in seeing that their children have ample rest and sleep, for, as Doctor Roberts points out, a child suffering from sleeplessness is a nervous, troublesome one.

Natives Preserve Heads

Natives make models of the heads of the important men of their country after their death in southern Malekula in the New Hebrides Islands. If the man is important enough they may even glue his hair fast to the dummy head and provide a body.

The heads are then placed on posts or kept in the man's clubhouses. In proof of this story, Dr. Albert B. Lewis, assistant curator at the Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago, has one complete body and several of the heads on display in Joseph N. Field hall of the museum.

CHEVROLET No argument about the camel. When it comes to miles per gallon, there's nothing in all the Gobi desert—or anywhere else—that can beat him. No argument about Chevrolet, either. It's the most economical full-size transportation on wheels.

More miles on a tankful of gas. More miles on a filling of oil. More miles without worry and trouble and repair! And they're smoother, safer, more comfortable miles, too, due to all these features exclusive to Chevrolet in the low-price field: A cushion-balanced six-cylinder engine. Fisher body. Fisher steel-plus-hardwood construction. Fisher Ventilation. Starterator. And many more!

Travel in comfort and save as you go. Save with a new Chevrolet. In addition to being America's most economical car, it's also America's fastest selling car by the widest margin of leadership in history.

NOTESGrade School Pupils
Start on Projects
For Fair Exhibit

Work on the exhibit to be shown at the Antioch Country Fair by the grade school was begun by the pupils this week. An endeavor will be made to show the objectives of the NRA in a form commensurate with the idea which can be given younger children of the purpose and objectives of the NRA. The project will be displayed in four divisions in accordance with four NRA principles, as follows: (1) that shorter hours will result in more leisure time, for which provision must be made in the schools in order that it may be put to worthwhile use; (2) fair competition in industry; (3) illustrated attempts at controlled production; (4) that higher wages and the increase in workers lead to greater purchasing power.

Each room is expected to contribute something to each of the four main divisions as far as possible.

Clabaugh Elected
President of Grade School Conference

Principal Ralph E. Clabaugh was elected president of the Northern Lake County Grade School Conference at the regular meeting held September 13. John Hodge was elected secretary-treasurer. Outgoing officers were E. C. Frye, Lake Villa, president; Frank Wood, Allendale, secretary; M. G. Batho, treasurer.

A schedule of baseball games to be played this fall among the six schools of the conference was arranged. The Antioch program is as follows:

September 18—at Allendale
Sept. 22—Fox Lake here
Sept. 25—Lake Villa here
October 3—Gurnee here.
Sept. 30—Grayslake there.

It was also decided to hold a Conference spelling contest at the Lake Villa school later this fall. By a series of elimination contests each school is to select four to represent their school. The contest will be written, thus insuring absolute fairness. First, second, and third winners will be named, a trophy to go to the school represented by the first winner.

INTRAMURAL GAMES TO BE PLAYED IN BASEBALL AND SOCCER

Intramural games in baseball and soccer will replace the customary conference football games this fall, according to an official announcement received from Prin. L. O. Bright this week. There are several reasons why the Board considered it advisable not to have football this year; the decision was chiefly due to the expense of purchasing expensive equipment for protection, the expense of caring for injuries, and the small attendance at games during the past seasons.

By having intramural games for both boys and girls of all the classes it is hoped that every student will be entered on some class team, in baseball, soccer, or volleyball. At the close of the season trophies will go to the boys and the girls in the class having the highest percentage in each of the three sports.

Schedules will be arranged for both the boys and girls. At the opening game Monday afternoon the Junior boys defeated the Senior boys in baseball, 7-5. Tuesday afternoon's game between the Freshmen and Sophomore boys resulted in a Sophomore victory, 3-1.

FRESHMEN TO BE GUESTS AT CHURCH

The Epworth League of the M. E. Church will entertain at a party for all the High School Freshmen at the church Friday evening. A similar welcoming party was given last year.

Roadside Marketing
Signs Made by Future Farmers

Roadside marketing signs, which have the name of the farm and proprietor painted on them, together with a set of interchangeable slats advertising various farm products are being made by Farm Mechanics students at the Antioch Township High school.

NOT AN INDIAN VILLAGE
The original, used for many years near Antioch

School. Six of these signs have been made in the past years and are now in service.

The sign was designed by C. L. Kuttel, instructor of Vocational Agriculture. Anyone wishing to have a sign made such as the one shown in the picture can do so at a very small cost. The sign will be made for the total cost of the lumber, hardware and paint only. The boys desiring experience in carpentering, painting, and printing, will not charge for their time.

If interested in getting a roadside marketing sign that can be read from both sides, see any of the Future Farmer boys or call on C. L. Kuttel, instructor at the school.

duct; W. C. Nevel, Harvard, with destroying property and dumping milk; John Moore, Barreville, and Bernard Zemmick, Ringwood, with disorderly conduct.

Strike Renewed
The flare-up of the strike on Monday was chiefly at farms around Woodstock and Crystal Lake. Although pickets had been stationed at many of the farms, most of the dumping was done willingly by the farmers themselves, after they had been assured by Bost's representatives that the strike was still on.

Bost announced that a committee of McHenry county farmers will go to Madison, Wis., to join with the members of the Wisconsin milk pool under Walter M. Singler, who plan to march to the state capitol to demand a flat price for their milk.

Pure Milk Retailers
Membership of those taking part in the striking activities are being canceled by the Pure Milk Association. It was learned early this week. The Pure Milk officials are at present seeking approval of a new agreement in Washington to boost the retail price of milk per quart to 11 cents.

Wisconsin dairymen are opposing this strongly, for such an action would mean that they will lose a Chicago market for about 500,000 pounds of milk a day.

Wisconsin Problem

The Wisconsin milk is used to furnish cream for Chicago. Transfer of the market to Illinois farmers will introduce a new factor into the base surplus plan under which they have been paid for their milk in the past. Under the base-surplus plan the dairy companies buy from each member of the association a quantity of milk equal to his average production during three months five years ago, at a price fixed for fluid milk. This price at present is $1.75 a hundred pounds.

This quota is the farmer's base. What milk he produces over his base is the surplus, for which he is paid at the price which the milk will yield when made into butter, currently about 77 cents.

20 Cent Increase
Under the new plan with the 1 cent a quart increase in the retail price, the dairy companies will increase their base purchases by about 35 per cent, involving the purchase of an added 500,000 pounds daily. They will pay $2.10 a hundred pounds instead of the present $1.75 for milk sold in the fluid state, and in addition for each 100 pound quota of such milk they will buy for $1.45 a hundred 35 pounds of milk to be converted into cream.

The combination of these two prices will give members of the Pure Milk association a so-called blended price of about $1.95 a hundred pounds in place of the former base price of $1.75 a hundred.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE GENESEE
The screen of the Genesee Theatre will bring Sunday for four days, Hermann Sudermann's great literary classic, "The Song of Songs," with Marlene Dietrich as the star, one of the most interesting films yet to be seen in Waukegan.

Played with restraint by every member of the notable cast, the story of the lovely young girl who meets tragedy solely because of her intense desire for love, is fine screen entertainment from the very beginning to the end. Each member of the cast contributed his bit in excellent fashion.

Miss Dietrich is especially appealing. She looks more beautiful than we have ever seen her look, and it can easily be said that "The Song of Songs" gives her her finest role to date. This is doubly impressive when one realizes that, in this picture, she plays, for the first time in her screen career, an innocent young girl who gets buffeted about by life.

TRACTABLE CHILDREN REQUIRE PRIVILEGE OF NATURAL ACTION

Over-Much Insistence on Toeing the Mark Makes Them Nervous

Even in the best of regulated families the summer months frequently bring about a disorganization in routine and discipline in the lives of small pre-school children. There are so many things to do, places to go, people to visit and to entertain. Then, too, if there are older children in the family, they quite often assume the responsibility of attending to the correction of certain faults of their younger brethren, and the result sometimes isn't very happy.

It can't always be helped at the time; to fuss unduly about a little routine matter often adds to the confusion; but after Labor Day, when the older ones are off to school, and life begins to settle once more into its old patterns, it's time to check up and take stock of summer's ravages on the nervous and physical condition of the little three-or-four-year-old.

Too much indiscriminate criticism and activity may have taken toll on his nervous system and rendered him unaccountably irritable. A return to the serenity of pre-summer days may be essential for his "recovery"; if those days were serene. In so many homes they were not, and not, and will not be, due to a succession of pouting, sulking, and crying spells. What is the reason for these spells? Is it because the child is just "ornery"? Not in most cases.

Let Them Be Natural

Children are not naturally bad; mischievous, perhaps, but not bad and unwilling to cooperate. Rousseau, of course, is the exponent of the school which believes in letting children live as closely to nature as possible, without restraint of artificial convention. In this land of metropolitan and civic centers, complete acceptance of that doctrine would be stretching things a bit too far. However, most successful mothers have found that children thrive better and more contentedly with the least possible number of critics and "don'ts." If they are allowed an outlet for their energy and natural curiosity, there will be little cause for those irritable nervous spells which are occasioned by constant opposition to their every desire and move.

It has been stated that five children are five times as easy to raise as one. While not concurring absolutely in this generalization, it may quite confidently be said that the mother of two children has a much easier task than the mother of one. For two children create their own amusement, while one little one is more often "underfoot" and thus exposed to a more liberal shower of scoldings and don'ts by a preoccupied elder.

He Needs Rope

A child's will is at once a delicate and hardy thing. (Oh, of course, some philosophers contend that there is no such thing as a will; however, there is something which most of us are satisfied to call by that name.) Persistently opposed it becomes weak or stubbornly untractable. Persuasion will do more than nagging for effective discipline. Letting the child have his own way when there is no real, valid, and just reason why he shouldn't will develop self-reliance; it will also command more respect for your refusal or opposition when you must give it.

The "Jalna" Saga Is Recommended as Interesting Reading

Wondering what to read these long fall evenings? For those who like books which are not sensational, nor, on the other hand, literary and "dry," Mazo de la Roche's "Jalna" is just the thing. It is not a new book; in fact there have been three sequels since its publication. It is the saga of a household in Canada, and accounts with understanding and a certain accurate humor the occurrences in the lives of the five brothers, and the characteristic reactions of each. "Jalna" and its immediate sequel, "Whiteoaks of Jalna" may be secured at the Antioch Public Library; "Finch's Fortune" and "The Master of Jalna" may be obtained for a small rental fee at the MariAnne Dress Shoppe in town.

EVEN SPORTSWEAR IS IS CHICLY FEMININE

Now that fall has come upon us so suddenly after weeks of apparently endless heat and drought one begins to seek warmth in heavier clothing—suits, knit materials, and sweaters. Despite that warning chill in the air it is hard suddenly to forego the freedom of summer garments and don coats and jackets.

A combination designed for street or office wear is the three-part sweater suit. A short, light-weight, slip-over sweater, usually with half-length sleeves of contrasting hue, is used as a warmer substitute for a blouse. Worn over this, when occasion or weather demands, is a straight, unbelted, half-length sweater with long sleeves. Sounds a bit awkward, doesn't it? But contrary to what one might expect, the outer sweater is not bulky, and conforms to the prevailing swing toward greater femininity even in practical daytime sports wear.

Has Contrasting Trim

The slip-over features sleeves and collar edging. If collar it has, of a harmonizing or contrasting shade, to the principal color scheme, such as tan sleeves with brown; or gray trim on red. Green and various hues of brown predominate in the three-part suit, but blue and red also get their innings in the single sport slip-over.

Of course, with black satin taking the limelight, one is inclined to be a bit wary about stocking up on anything that hints of brown, because all accessories shown this season are black as the ace of spades. Still, a double sweater suit of a warm fall color fills to a T a certain need in the wardrobe that cannot be taken by black; and they are being shown in abundance, girls, so you needn't hesitate.

Here's Quick Method of Restoring Luster To Lifeless Locks

Have you ever noticed how beauty experts berate good old Sol for his damaging effects upon the feminine locks during the hot weather season? Well, they are right. But have you further observed how they will go on and recommend some hair lotion—very nice, indeed—accompanied by directions for a complicated treatment guaranteed to bring back that life and soft luster without which no well-bred locks can properly take their place in society?

No doubt you have; and if Old Man Depression hasn't succeeded in getting your goal, or if you are in a position to "buy," you may have followed the advice of these experts. But there are many of us for whom that extra fifty cents or dollar does the disappearing act along about the time we come to think of lotions. So we must resort to simpler remedies.

Use Brush and Towel

Here is a method found to be effective in restoring a clean luster to dry or oily hair, when said hair becomes unmanageable and there's no time to give it a proper shampoo. Brush the hair thoroughly, stimulating the flow of oil. Then rub hair and scalp vigorously with a Turkish towel; this removes the oil, dirt, and loose dandruff, and also sets the wave more firmly unless that wave is very precarious. It's an easy method, quick, and costs nothing. Try it.

Play "Round-Up"—With Flashlights; It's More Fun Than "Hide-and-Seek"

Although the simple games which granddads used to play when he was a boy are among the few things which have survived in a rapidly changing world, even they have taken on modern garb and would hardly be recognizable to him today.

The latest instance of this is the "new" game, called Round-Up, which is not new at all, but only a modern improvement on the old game of "Hide and Seek." The game is played after dark, and each contestant carries a flashlight. The person who is "it" closes his eyes, as in hide-and-seek, while the other participants hide up trees, in shrubbery, or wherever they can conceal themselves. Then the "it" person searches for them with his flashlight. When he spots someone he mischievously calls his name and if the name is correct the "captive" must return to "base"—or the "Corral" as it is called in this modernized version! After the person who is "it" has gone away to find the other participants, the captive yells: "Beckon, Beckon." He cannot leave the "Corral" until some friendly participant gives him a "beckon" consisting of a "wink" or flash, on his flashlight.

Giving this "beckon" involves danger, for if the person thus coming to the captive's rescue is not careful, the flash of his flashlight will reveal his hiding place and he will be caught. Generally, the "rescuer," as soon as he has given the captive a beckon, dashes off in the dark to find another hiding place before the "it" person can detect him.

As soon as any participant is caught three times he is "it," and all participants come to the "Corral" to begin over again.

IN our home, every kind of pie is popular, but when a chocolate pie comes on the table it always seems as though the enthusiasm reaches its height.

Every one of these pies is so good that I find it hard to decide which to make. So try them all in turn.

Chiffon Chocolate Pie

3 squares unsweetened chocolate, cut in pieces; 2 1/2 cups milk; 1-1/2 cups sugar; 1/4 cup cornstarch; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 2 tablespoons butter; 3 egg yolks, slightly beaten; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 1 baked 9-inch pie shell.

3 egg whites; 6 tablespoons sugar.

Add chocolate to milk and heat in double boiler. When chocolate is melted, beat with rotary egg beater until blended. Stir in sugar, cornstarch, and salt together, and add a small amount of chocolate mixture, stirring until smooth. Return to double boiler, add butter, and stir constantly until thickened. Cook 10 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Pour a small amount over egg yolks, stirring vigorously. Return to double boiler and cook until thickened. Remove from fire and add vanilla. Cool. Pour into pie shell. Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is thoroughly blended. After all sugar is added, continue beating until mixture will stand in peaks. Pipe lightly on filling. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 15 minutes, or until slightly browned.

Chocolate Crested Custard Pie

1 pie crust; 3 eggs, slightly beaten; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/2 cup sugar; 3 cups milk, scalded; 1 teaspoon vanilla.

1 square unsweetened chocolate, melted; 2 tablespoons hot water; 2 tablespoons sugar.

Line a deep 9-inch pie plate with pastry, rolled to 1/4-inch thickness. Combine eggs, salt and sugar. Add milk, stirring constantly. Then add vanilla. Pour into pie shell. Make in hot oven (400° F.) 15 minutes, then decrease heat to moderate (350° F.) and bake 30 minutes longer, or until knife inserted comes out clean.

Combine chocolate, water and sugar, and blend. Pour over pie filling, place in slow oven (200° F.), and bake 1 to 1 1/2 minutes longer, or until chocolate is set. Cool.

Santiago Chocolate Pie

3 squares unsweetened chocolate, cut in pieces; 3/4 cup milk; 3 tablespoons flour; 1/2 cup cornstarch; 1/2 cup sugar; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 1 baked 9-inch pie shell.

1 cup cream, whipped; 1/2 cup raisins or nuts, coarsely broken.

Add chocolate to 3 cups milk and heat in double boiler. When chocolate is melted, beat with rotary egg beater until blended. Stir in flour, cornstarch, sugar, and salt together; mix with 1/2 cup milk and add to chocolate mixture, stirring constantly. Return to double boiler, add cream and raisins or nuts. Add sugar and vanilla. Beat until mixture will stand in peaks. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 15 minutes, or until slightly browned.

Better Breakfasts

GETTING out of the wrong side of bed is an old-fashioned excuse for being grouchy. In fact it's no longer valid, completely out of date because modern psychologists have discovered that it's not the side of the bed you get out of, but the kind of breakfast that you get into you, that decides your disposition for the day.

So we're suggesting here a breakfast of icy fruit with a tropical tang, cereal and sweet cream, an unusual meat with cheese sauce, up-to-date toast and modern vacuum packed coffee (the only way to be sure of having fresh coffee to brew) in order to keep you from kicking the cat or cow.

Change To Standard Time Set for Sunday

Despite agitation on the part of World's Fair officials to have Daylight Saving Time extended to November 5, Standard Time will be re-instituted Sunday morning, Sept. 24, in accordance with Chicago's ordinance now governing the time change. The request for a time extension was withdrawn by the Fair officials, after it had been greeted with much protest by parents of school children and many others.

Had the request not been withdrawn it would have come before the city council of Chicago as a proposed amendment to the existing ordinance, for approval or rejection. Waukegan was proposing to follow Chicago's lead in the matter, and if the action had been approved there is little doubt that all the towns of northern Illinois would have been obliged to follow suit in order to maintain satisfactory business and social arrangements with Chicago.

OVERCOMING CHILD'S FEAR OF THE DENTIST

Most modern parents realize the importance of frequent dental examinations, but unfortunately not all modern children do. At least some of them have objections to visiting the dentist. In past years there may have been some reason for this fear, but today with the development of comparatively painless dentistry, the child need have no fear, particularly if he goes frequently enough so that no serious trouble has a chance to get under way.

The child's fear of the dentist usually has no foundation in any actual experience of his own, nor does he come into the world with an instinctive fear of dental treatment. Therefore, the only way this fear can be implanted in his mind, is by hearing others talk about painful experiences, either real or imagined, or by hearing such careless phrases as "it was as bad as going to the dentist."

It is most unwise to play upon the child's dislike of dentistry even as a means of urging him to take care of his teeth. For instance, don't say "If you don't brush your teeth you'll have to go to the dentist."

Early Treatment Saves Future Pain.

You, as parents, can try to keep people from repeating before the child exaggerated stories of their experiences in the dentist chair. Also, emphasize to the child that good teeth mean good looks as well as good health, and that by going to the dentist regularly every six months, his teeth will be kept in such good condition that painful treatment will never be necessary, whereas, if he puts it off some serious trouble may develop.

Of course there are differences in dentists. Select as considerate a dentist as you possibly can for your child. Do all you can to prevent and overcome your child's fears. If you are unsuccessful, take him to the dentist anyway and have his teeth attended to. To delay is not a kindness but a cruelty. Teeth neglected in childhood will no doubt give real cause for fear later in life.

This is one of a series of articles on "How to Have Attractive Teeth" released in cooperation with and approved by the public service committee of the Chicago Dental Society.

THREE LAKE VILLA YOUTHS INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Three young men, residents of or near Lake Villa, suffered serious cuts and bruises, when the car in which they were riding struck a culvert near Wedge's Corners early Tuesday morning.

The driver, Herman Wolf, a state highway department maintenance worker residing in Lake Villa, was said to have lost control of the car in a moment of drowsiness. He was accompanied by Howard Sheehan and Ray Golden, also of Lake Villa. All three were treated for cuts and injuries at the Lake Villa Emergency hospital by Dr. R. H. Gindich. Wolf and Sheehan were later taken to St. Therese hospital in Waukegan for further treatment.

Wolf is suffering from a skull fracture; Sheehan from a forehead cut, sprained neck, and crushed chest. Members of Sheehan's family state that the injuries will not prove serious, and that he is making as rapid a recovery as can be expected.

Girl Scout News

We held our second meeting of the year Friday, Sept. 15.

There was a change made in the Nightingale Patrol and Lion Patrol. Betty Lou Williams, former Patrol Leader of Nightingale Patrol was changed into Lion. Mildred Horan was elected Patrol Leader in Betty Lou Williams' place. Jean Sherman was elected Treasurer in Mildred Horan's place.

First we had Patrol meeting for collecting of two troop dues and Patrol business. We then played a bean bag game, dividing up in two sections, the first girl at the head of a section tossing the bean bag across to the girl opposite, that girl tossing it to the person across from her and so on down the line, when "Girl Scout" was called out by Mrs. Phillips the girls who held the bags called the name of her patrol and that patrol received a point. The first patrol having 15 points won. White Bear won.

Plans for the Girl Scout booth at the Antioch Fair were discussed.

Our next meeting Friday will be American Indian Day and the Scouts will have their mothers as guests.

Then we sang taps and the Patrol leaders, Mabel Simonsen, Florence Hackett, Mildred Horan and Myrtle Lovested had Court of Honor.

Peter Huff, 55 years old, well-known dairy farmer living northeast of Richmond on the Twin Lakes road, shot himself early Monday morning with a shotgun.

Huff left the house Monday morning with the gun, entered the cow barn, and was found shortly afterwards shot through his heart. At the inquest held Monday afternoon a verdict of death by suicide was returned.

It is believed that despondency over ill health, and worry over farm finances caused Huff to take his life. He is survived by his wife, and one brother, Stephen Huff, Spring Grove. He had lived at various places in the vicinity of Richmond most of his life.

Drives One Car 28 Years

Twenty-eight years ago, when crowds were still staring in amazement at those "new-fangled contraptions" called motor carriages G. G. Gilbertson, of Ada, Minn., journeyed to Minneapolis and bought a four-cylinder car for $1,000 called the "Queen." The dealer told Mr. Gilbertson it would last him for a lifetime. Mr. Gilbertson was then 55 years old. Now he is 83. Believing that he is entitled to some real automobile comfort in the remaining days of his life, and is real happy driving it about the country. The "Queen" was made in Detroit; it being the first venture into the automobile field of the Bloomington Motor Co., who were then manufacturers of marine motors. About 10,000 of these cars were made and sold. Later several wealthy men, of whom Walter De Luce Motor Car Company. Eventually the plant became a part of another company, the Queen and De Luce cars and stock on hand being sold to a firm nationally known as a salvager of obsolete cars. Mr. Gilbertson's car was the first four-cylinder automobile sold in Minnesota. In the upper picture, he is shown at the wheel. In the lower, his new Chevrolet and the old Queen show the difference in a quarter century of progress.
